Volunteers with Brightmoor Hospice

Brightmoor Hospice trains our dedicated volunteers to offer:

- Emotional Support
- Companionship
- Respite Care
- Spiritual Support

Potential volunteers are screened by Brightmoor Hospice. We look for dedicated and compassionate people with a heart to serve. Their training includes hospice-related online courses, an in-person orientation session, and regular on-going training.

Volunteers are available to visit patients wherever they reside: their homes, nursing facilities, assisted living facilities, and in the inpatient units.

What can volunteers do?

Volunteers may encourage patients by reading, praying, singing or providing some sort of music, writing letters or by just visiting and reminiscing with the patient. They may also offer short respite breaks for families.

Volunteers are unable to offer any type of skilled care to the patient, including giving medicines, moving or feeding a patient.

When will I see my volunteer?

Volunteers are assigned, when your family requests their support. Volunteers call before visiting the home of a patient. Upon their first visit volunteers will leave a card so you will have their name and number. Volunteers visit based on your needs.

We thank you for trusting Brightmoor Hospice volunteers with your loved ones!
